Prestige Network launches Cardiff Office

Language services company Prestige Network has opened a new office in Cardiff to meet the increasing demand for language services in Wales.

The new office, which is located in Cardiff Bay, is the fourth office for the company. With offices now in England, Scotland and Wales, the opening of the new Cardiff office has cemented Prestige Network's position as the UK's only true national provider of language services.

Prestige Network Head of PR and Marketing Kate Wiley said the new Cardiff Bay office was reception number four for the company, whose head office is in Thatcham, Berkshire.

"The opening of our fourth branch in Cardiff is a reflection of the exciting time of expansion that Prestige Network is experiencing," she said.

"There is high demand for language services in Wales and we felt that we would be better positioned to serve our Welsh clients through an office actually located in Wales.

"Prestige Network offers a full range of services in all languages, and we provide full national coverage with offices in Berkshire, London, Edinburgh and now Cardiff."

“With the opening of our new Cardiff office and the continual expansion of the company, this is an exciting time for Prestige Network and we look forward to working closely with our present and future Welsh clients.”
